About The Philadelphia Food Policy Advisory Council

The Philadelphia Food Policy Advisory Council (FPAC) connects Philadelphians and their local government to create a more just food system. We envision that all Philadelphians can access and afford healthy, sustainable, culturally appropriate, local, and fair food. FPAC members and supporters come together for monthly meetings. FPAC's several subcommittees also meet on a monthly basis to delve deeper into specific policy areas. All FPAC meetings are open to the public.

Good Food Procurement Subcommittee

The Good Food Procurement subcommittee advises the City of Philadelphia on how to spend its public dollars on 'good food' that improves outcomes for producers, consumers, and the environment. The subcommittee educates and guides key governmental purchasers to develop innovative procurement approaches and establish relationships with regional businesses to increase supply and purchasing of good food.

Acknowledgments

This Guide was developed by FPAC's Good Food Procurement subcommittee and was updated by FPAC Coordinator Mary Pham in the spring of 2018. The icons in this guide were provided by The Noun Project from the artists BomSymbol, Edward Boatman, GRACE Communications Foundation and Mother Jones, and Nikita Kozin.

To learn more about adding a business to this list or why good food is important for viable and healthy communities, economies, and individuals, please contact fpac@phila.gov.

Good Food Values

The FPAC Good Food Procurement subcommittee developed this guide to help consumers find businesses offering food that meets at least two of the four 'good food' values: healthy, sustainably-sourced, fair, and local.

HEALTHY

The menu offers a variety of healthy options including water or no calorie beverages; fruit and vegetable appetizers, sides or salads prepared healthily; whole grain side dishes; entrees that are grilled, roasted, baked, or poached; vegetarian-based dishes; and low-sodium or heart healthy offerings.

SUSTAINABLY-SOURCED

The business is working in these sustainability areas: local sourcing, organic ingredients, fair trade, humane treatment of animals (including offering vegan or vegetarian options), and other green activities.

FAIR

The business embodies fair labor practices by providing benefits and transparent living wage policies beyond minimum legal requirements.

LOCAL

The business has a valid commercial activity license with the City of Philadelphia and either has more than 50% of full-time workers working in the city 60% of the time, or the principal place of business is located in the city.

Caterer Directory

The following businesses nominated themselves and have been verified by the Good Food Procurement subcommittee as meeting at least two of the four 'good food' values. The businesses are listed in order of meeting the most to least good food values.
